ROUX Marguerite

The diagram is an ancestry chart starting from Marguerite ROUX at the root. It branches into two main paths. The left path consists of four generations of boxes, with the final box at the bottom being empty. The right path also consists of four generations of boxes, with the final box at the bottom being empty. Each box in the right path is connected to a vertical column of two empty rectangular boxes, representing a family unit or record. The boxes are arranged in a staggered, tree-like structure, with each generation having more boxes than the previous one. The boxes are white with black outlines, and the text is in blue.
